ABOVE: NewTechWood supplies a comprehensive range of capped composite products for the decking, cladding, screening and decorative beam markets. NewTechWood's Ultrashield capping – used here – encases all four sides of the board to give absolute protection from the weather, sun, scuffs and scrapes. The Ultrashield cap is fusion-bonded to the core of the board, creating an impermeable seal to ensure your deck looks good for years to come.

"The owners wanted a sophisticated yet minimalist and modern elegance with a clean-cut structure that offered easy maintenance."

Building their home from scratch with the intention of creating spaces that offered easy inside-outside living, this family now has a forever home complete with a highly adaptable and flexible entertainment area that is perfect for use year-round.

The main focus when building this home was to create an environment that was child-friendly, safe, private but open, yet easily adaptable to when the three kids grow up.

In terms of the look and feel, the owners wanted a sophisticated >

BELOW: Supplied by Patio Warehouse, the must-have June Corner Lounge set is modern, stylish and made with an aluminium frame. All pieces are created using foam to permit maximum water draining and air circulation, making this set not only fashionable but functional too. Finished with a Sunbrella fabric for optimal UV protection, this set will maintain its look and feel, whether your patio is covered or not.

yet minimalist and modern elegance with a clean-cut structure that offered easy maintenance.

According to the owner, a few features that stand out include the dining room lights, the fireplace and the staircase. "The ambience that the trio of lights creates when you host a dinner party is indescribable, they are totally magical and have to be my favourite statement pieces," she says.

"The fireplace is a piece of art on its own with its clad wooden deck backdrop and then Rustenburg granite base, which certainly illuminate a majestic reflection when the lighting is dimmed and the fire alight.

"And then there is the staircase with its floating perception of solid wooden blocks and strong sharp angles, and a double-volume glass backdrop that overlooks an incredible landscaped, picture-perfect garden." >

BELOW: Hired as the interior stylist for this home, Leanne Van Niekerk Interiors sourced and supplied the soft furnishings and accessories needed to complete the home. The company utilised existing elements to achieve a brand new look by pulling everything together and adding the finishing touches.

“This family now has a forever home complete with a highly adaptable and flexible entertainment area that is perfect for use year-round.”

With all this and so much more, it is no wonder that when guests enter this home, some of the reactions these owners get include: “Wow this house is so practical, everything is so well thought out!” “It just flows perfectly, it’s very calming and peaceful.” “It has such an open feel you can actually feel the energy.” “It has that feel-good feeling.”
